DAD'S JOURNAL

Day 3 - The Mayan Adventure

After days of traveling through the jungle, Harry Jr. and I have finally reached the heart of the ancient Mayan Empire. It's been a long journey, but the real danger lies ahead... For we are close to discovering the lost treasure of Uaxactun.

According to legend, the treasure is guarded by the spirit of an ancient Mayan warrior - Zakelua: Lord of Evil. Thousands of years ago, Zakelua attempted to conquer the Mayan lands so he could rule the Empire. After many battles, he was finally defeated, never to be seen again...

I have recorded my research on Mayan culture and legend in the following pages. If something should happen to me, it is my hope that Harry Jr. take my personal log and use it as a guide to continue our quest. I only hope that it will be enough help - if ever it must be used...

Day 5 - Mayan Weapons

Sling Stones - Stones that serve as ammunition for slings. Commonly found throughout Mayan lands in sacks.

Mayan Boomerang - Sends a powerful blow to any enemy. Must remember to recover this weapon after it's thrown.

Exploding Stone of Pacal - This sacred stone has magical properties. Said to destroy almost all enemies in sight.

Day 7 - Mayan Artifacts

There are several artifacts that Harry Jr. and I hope to find during our journey. Many Mayans believed these ancient idols and relics were created and sent to earth by Itzamna - the Mayan God of Knowledge.

Time Keeper - According to legend, this powerful artifact temporarily freezes time after being touched.

Mayan Chili Pepper - Said to endow the beholder with super-human strength, causing temporary increase in running and jumping abilities.

Sacred Heart - A spiritual beating heart that restores a portion of lost health to its finder.

Location Idol - Used by Mayan travelers to mark their location. Holds magical properties that point traveler in general direction of desired path. Allows traveler to return to marked point after traveler is unable to continue journey.

Golden Idol - Rare Mayan artifact with the power to bestow its finder with a second attempt at continuing journey.

Treasure Pieces - It is reported that pieces of Mayan treasures: gold coins, silver and gold bars, diamond rings... are hidden throughout the Empire.

Day 9 - Mayan Foes

There exists very little information on Mayan foes... for all who have witnessed any evil doings have mysteriously disappeared. Therefore, I have only been able to compile a partial record on enemies.

Skeletons - At one time were soldiers in Zakelua's army. Groups have been recently spotted near Copan.

Spirits of Chaac - Were at one time followers of Chaac - the Mayan God of War and Sacrifice. It is said that these spirits have a strong command of fire.

Jaguar - This sleek, powerful animal was a favorite pet of Zakelua and served as his personal bodyguard. Recent sightings include the nearby jungles.

Hawks - Served as messengers for Zakelua during wartime. Have been spotted in Tikal and areas near water.

Gargoyles - According to legend, many of the ancient Mayan ruins are guarded by stone gargoyles that come to life when approached.

Snakes - Favorites of Zakelua. These creatures are common throughout Mayan lands... and can be very dangerous.

Vapor Ghost - Reportedly a product of Zakelua's sorcery - created to ward off anyone who has sights on the lost treasure of Uaxactun.

There have also been sightings of Zakelua, though no one has been able to document his appearance. And some believe that Zakelua himself, using ancient Mayan sorcery, wields control over the creatures that inhabit the Mayan Empire.

Day 12 - The Lost Civilization of the Mayans

Over the course of my studies, I have learned that for nearly four-thousand years the Mayan civilization flourished throughout what is now Mexico and Central America. In some areas, Mayan culture lasted until the early 1500's, but many of the prominent cities disappeared by A.D. 900.

Although many Mayan sites have been discovered, little is known of their day-to-day activities. What is known is that they built elaborate cities and temples without aid from the wheel, metal tools or animals. There was a civilization full of mystery and magic. Long has there been talk of ghosts and evil spirits roaming through the ruined cities and forests of the lost Mayan Empire. It is this civilization of mystery and magic that I long to explore.

Day 13 - Mayan Lands

Harry Jr. and I have traveled for days in search of the lost treasure. Although it's been a long and tough expedition, it is far from over. The road ahead is full of danger.

Jungle of Ceiba - An ancient and mysterious place uninhabited since the 1400's. Danger lurks from all around on this maze-like path. Should be able to use surrounding elements to navigate.

Xibalba Falls - Named after the demons believed to exist throughout the Mayan civilization. Only the skillful can travel this dangerous path without plummeting into the raging water below. Must be careful!

Tazamul Mines - Lost for centuries, this series of treacherous caverns is believed to be inhabited by deadly creatures and filled with hazardous barriers. Could possibly use abandoned mine car as transportation.

Lost City of Copan - Located in the heart of the ancient Mayan Empire, this 2000-year-old, decaying exterior is loaded with deadly traps and even deadlier enemies.

Copan Temple - All who have entered this mysterious labyrinth have never returned.

Should Harry Jr. and I actually survive the journey through the known Mayan territory, we will need all remaining luck to continue the expedition... Ahead lies a long road...
