Overview

Advent95 is an Advent Calendar for 1995 that plays a different Christmas carol each day. Larry Roberts has created beautiful arrangements of forty public domain carols. When you select the appropriate day from the Advent95 screen, you'll read that day's Bible verse accompanied by beautiful music. And Advent95 lets you choose between the New International and King James Versions of the Holy Bible.

Advent95 can also serve as a source of background music during your Christmas season, too; in its album-play mode, Advent95 will randomly play its forty songs for as long as you wish.

Advent is now an annual event—a new program will arrive each year. We plan several enhancements over the years, including displaying carol lyrics and Spanish Bible verses. Please send us your suggestions to improve Advent!

For 1995, there are versions for both Windows 95 and Windows 3.1. The Advent95 archive files contains both versions, and registering entitles you to both versions.

The marketing concept known as ‘shareware’ allows you to evaluate a working program to determine what it is worth to you, and then buy it if you are going to use it. Advent95 is not a free program. If you like it, register (“buy”) Advent95 by sending us $20 US. If you don’t think Advent95 is worth it, please let us know why—we will see if we can satisfy you with the next version.

Upon registering, you will receive your personal Registration Information. PowerJam Systems strictly prohibits you from giving this Registration Information to anyone in any format whatsoever. Distributing this information would immediately void your license.

Registering enables access to the enhanced features of Advent95, including album play mode.

The help system contains a ready-to-print order form for all PowerJam Systems shareware programs. The order form also explains how CompuServe users can register Advent95 online (program #4329).
