

Microsoft Windows 95 Hardware Compatibility List

Revised August 23, 1995

The Windows 95 Hardware Compatibility List (HCL) contains a list of computer systems and peripherals that are compatible with the Microsoft Windows 95 operating system. To see if your hardware is on this list, click on the icon that depicts your hardware category. If your hardware is compatible with Windows 95, it is listed as Compatible in the Test Notes column of the list. If it is listed as Logo, then your hardware is also Plug and Play, and meets the requirements for the Designed for Windows 95 logo.

The HCL also lets you know whether your hardware is supported by drivers in the Windows 95 product, or you need to download drivers from online services to make your hardware work. To find out how to download and install new drivers from online services, click here: How to install new drivers

You might also want to upgrade existing drivers with better ones from online services. To find out how to upgrade existing drivers, click here: How to upgrade existing drivers

For hardware vendors wanting to add new hardware and drivers to the HCL, click here: How to add devices/drivers to the HCL

Note that the most current version of the HCL and online WDL (Windows Driver Library) drivers always reside at online services. For a listing of available online services, click here: Online services. If you do not have access to online services, you may call Microsoft Product Support Services to request a specific driver.

How to install new drivers

Close

For instructions on installing new drivers, click the entry below that corresponds to the location of the driver.

You can get the location from the Driver Location column in the device listing.

Floppy:

Drivers included in the floppy diskette version of Windows 95.

CD:

Drivers included in the CD-ROM version of Windows 95.

Online:

Drivers available at online services.

Drivers included in the floppy diskette or CD-ROM versions of Windows 95

back...

1. Launch Control Panel.
2. Double-click the Add New Hardware icon.
3. Follow the instructions on your screen.

Tip

It is recommended that you let Windows detect your new hardware. Make sure you have connected your hardware or installed its components in your computer before running the wizard.

How to upgrade existing drivers

back...

- a) If you do not have access to a modem, obtain a diskette that contains the driver by calling Microsoft Product Support Services. Then proceed to step 2.
 - b) If you have the CD-ROM version of Windows 95, you can obtain some drivers from the Drivers folder. If the driver you need is in that folder, proceed to step 2.
 - c) If you have a modem, download the driver to a diskette from an online service, then proceed to step 1. For a listing of these online services, click here: Online services
1. Use the right mouse button to click My Computer, then click Properties on the menu that appears.
 2. Click the Device Manager tab, then double-click the device type and the device you want to upgrade.
 3. Click the Driver tab, then click the Change Driver button.
 4. Click the Have Disk button.
 5. Enter the location of the driver file.
 6. When you are prompted to insert the software installation disk, enter the location of the driver file.
 7. Follow the instructions on your screen.

- 1. In My Computer or Windows Explorer, double-click the file you downloaded. This extracts the driver.
 - 2. Launch Control Panel.
 - 3. Double-click the Add New Hardware icon. At the prompt Do you want Windows to search for your new hardware? click No.
 - 4. Click the hardware type for the driver you are installing.
 - 5. Click the Have Disk button.
 - 6. Enter the location of the driver file.
 - 7. Follow the instructions on your screen.

Microsoft Compatibility Labs

The Microsoft Compatibility Labs (MCL) are your gateway to the exclusive world of computer hardware products tested to be compatible with the Microsoft Windows operating system. Only products that pass our rigorous tests are entitled to display the Windows Logo. That Logo is your customers' assurance that your product will work with the world's most popular operating system.

The Logo is not the only thing you get from the program. You also get a detailed Test Report, inclusion of your hardware on the Windows Hardware Compatibility List (HCL), and free distribution of your driver via the Windows Driver Library (WDL).

We have made it as easy as we can for you to take part in the Windows Hardware Compatibility testing program offered by MCL. First you determine, from the following table, which product category your product falls under. Then you call the fax-back number 206-635-2222, and enter the document number corresponding to the product category you selected from the table. Step-by-step instructions on how to proceed with the compatibility testing program will then be automatically faxed to you.

Computer Hardware Category	Fax-back Document Number
Computer Systems	863
Display adapters/monitors	864
Audio adapters	865
Storage adapters/devices	866
Network adapters	867
Printers	868
Modems	869
Input devices	870
Video capture adapters	871
Microprocessors	872
Hardware not listed above	879

Please review the fax-back document and follow the instructions to send your submission to MCL. Incomplete submissions will not be processed.

If you have any questions on the program, feel free to contact us at:
