

ZipExit by Robert Reinstein

ZipExit may not be distributed separate from QuikButton, the full featured Windows enhancement.

ZipExit allows you to create an icon, or a Windows 95 shortcut, that will immediately restart Windows, exit Windows (or in the case of Windows 95, shutdown Windows), or reboot your computer.

For Windows users:

Create a new program item with the command line ZIPEXIT.EXE and one of these parameters:

- exit - to exit Windows
- restart - to restart Windows
- reboot - to reboot your PC

Double click on the icon and that task will be immediately carried out without confirmation

For Windows 95 users:

Create a new shortcut pointing to ZIPEXIT.EXE.

Append to the command line one of these parameters:

- shutdown - to shutdown Windows 95
- restart - to restart Windows 95
- reboot - to reboot your PC

For example, the following command line will immediately restart Windows or Windows 95:

C:\QBUTTON\ZIPEXIT.EXE restart

Please remember, ZIPEXIT is included free with QuikButton, the utility that gives Windows, Windows 95, and Windows NT users quick access to Windows, Windows 95, and Windows NT utilities, system information, a desktop blanker, a command line, user-defined commands, and various ways of exiting Windows.

QuikButton is available on CompuServe as QBUTTON.ZIP.

QuikButton was formerly known as QuikExit (QEXIT.ZIP) but the name was changed for these reasons:

Other people were releasing programs with the same name, so I wanted to avoid confusion

QuikExit was no longer just a "Windows Exit" utility, but a full featured Windows enhancement

ZipExit and QuikButton and being distributed as shareware. This means that you may evaluate ZipExit and QuikButton for 30 days. If you wish to continue using ZipExit or QuikButton, or both, you must register QuikButton. A QuikButton registration automatically gives you the right to use ZipExit.

See QBUTTON.WRI for more information.

Thanks for trying out QuikButton and ZipExit!! And don't forget to register.

Robert Reinstein
20 Singingwood Drive
Holbrook, New York 11741

CIS 76702,2075