Track Background
Marks the current foreground and background cast members as the first members of a foreground and background series of cast members.   From then on, as you select different foreground cast members, the corresponding member of the background series is used as a reference image.