

Japan's climate is diverse. However, most of Japan lies in temperate zones, resulting in six clear seasonal changes.

The Haru-Ichiban season occurs from mid-January through March, as winter turns to spring. Haru-ichiban refers to the first strong, warm, southeast wind of the year. During this time look for plum and camellia blossoms.