

Use tweening to make sprites shrink or grow, fade in and out, or change color. All types of tweening involve the same process of defining properties in keyframes. To learn more about tweening see the "Tweening Sprites" help topic.