INSTALLATION:

From within the Win95 Explorer or desktop, drag the entire directory structure for Silencer from the CD-Rom to your hard-disk. You can then begin the game by clicking on the icon for Silencer.

NOTES ON USE:

The DirectX package must be installed on your system play Silencer.
Double-click on 'dxsetup.exe' in the silencer\redist\directx directory of this CD.

You must have also installed direct-draw drivers for your video card for Silencer to run properly. These drivers might have come with windows-95, but cards purchased before Win-95's introduction or those that shipped with win-3.1 drivers will not work. Most people receive updated drivers from either the web-site or ftp-site of their graphics-card manufacturer.

If you are running with a 1MB graphics card, Silencer may run very slowly or not at all. Silencer has not yet been optimized for a 1MB graphics card.

This demo version of silencer requires a machine with approximately 24MB of free ram. This usually requires a 32 MB system. Silencer will ship with a 16MB ram requirement.

Known problems:

- matrox graphics cards
- ensonic sound-scape

To disable sound on any system, modify:
silencer.cfg

so that the value following sound_on is 0
