C-Organizer Professional

OVERVIEW

C-Organizer Professional is a beautiful and powerful personal information manager. The program can help you organize and plan your business and personal life. In short, this is a Planner, Address Book, Password and Bookmark manager, Notebook, and a Calendar of Events combined into one powerful, easy-to-use application.

Program's exquisite, well thought-out interface makes using this application an easy, even gratifying process. A built-in planner allows users to create a list of daily chores and appointments, which significantly eases tracking daily tasks and distributing workload evenly. Besides that, there are "global" ToDo lists, which extend their span over one day. You can create any number of such lists and group records together, if you want to simplify things. Program's flexible repeating event settings make planning recurring tasks a snap. C-Organizer's built-in notification system will remind you about upcoming deadlines, holidays, birthdays and other important dates. The program can be easily configured to alert a user with a special reminder displayed on computer's monitor or by sending an e-mail. In addition, data stored with C-Organizer is protected by a password to prevent unauthorized access to personal information.

Program's address book comes with an option to store the attached photographs and features easily configurable database structure. You can add a new parameter (field) to the database structure on your own. For you convenience, we've added an option to save various database structures as templates for further use.

Importantly, C-Organizer notes support rich text formatting, images, tables, hyperlinks to the Internet or local files, as well as any records in the database. Use C-Organizer notes to create MS Word-like documents.
Since the version 3.1 C-Organizer supports the print templates feature. Now, all reports can be printed using pre-installed print templates that come with C-Organizer. The templates can also be created and edited with a BUILT-IN TEMPLATE EDITOR. Now you can create any template to meet any of your needs.
In addition, the new version allows EDITING reports before printing, and saving it as RTF or HTML file.

Moreover, C-Organizer has a flexible sorting system, as well as record import and export options, automatic integration with the default e-mail client and web browser installed on your computer.

The program can be launched automatically upon Windows startup and minimized to the system tray (are near the system clock). Program's icon displays current date.

Keep all your important information in one place. C-Organizer is a fast, simple, easy-to-use utility any professional should have.

Publish your own database

If you have your own national holiday database, interesting notes or any other helpful information, and if this base contains at least 100 records that you want to make public, send us your .CDB file. You will get a free C-Organizer Professional license, provided we find your file worth publishing.
