Company Background:

V-ONE Corporation is a leading provider of network security technologies. The highest levels of the defense and intelligence agencies of the United States government, Fortune 100 corporations and some of the largest financial institutions in the world use V-ONE technology to defend their networks. V-ONE's product line includes SmartWall and SmartGATE.

Presentation Overview:

What's next after firewalls? Will defensive measures be able to keep up with the bad guys?

Speaker Background:

James F. Chen, President and Founder, is an open networks visionary who founded V-ONE in 1993. Under his leadership, V-ONE has grown from a small start-up company to become a leader in network security solutions. Before founding V-ONE, Mr. Chen was with Washington, DC-based INTELSAT where he successfully launched 19 satellites and, in collaboration with NASA's Space Shuttle division, rescued a stranded satellite.
