

PATRICK STEWART

rior to taking command of the Enterprise in the "Star Trek: The Next Generation" television series as Capt. Jean-Luc Picard, Patrick Stewart appeared in such BBC productions as "I, Claudius," "Smiley's People" and "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy."

Stewart's films include "Gunmen," "Robin Hood: Men in Tights," "L.A. Story," "Lady Jane," "Dune," "Excalibur" and "Hedda."

His stage appearances include his one-man interpretation of "A Christmas Carol." He won a London Fringe Best Actor Award for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and a Society of West End Theatre Award for "Antony and Cleopatra."