

Heading Menu

Consult with the A Beginner's Guide to HTML for more details on HTML headings. To set a selection of text as a specific heading, select it with the mouse, then choose the desired heading from the Heading menu. HTML headings are numbered 1 through 6, 1 having the most emphasis.

Choosing the Index command and a specific heading level returns a list of all occurrences of that heading within the document. To close the Index list, click on its close box. See also HTML Code Indexing.

Back to Index Anchors, on to Font menu, or return to Contents.