About Extras

This folder contains various components that may be useful to some users.

Contents:

NotifyMail Automation:

If you would like to extend NotifyMail's notification system using an applet, simply place this applet in your home directory's Library:Preferences folder (do not rename it) and edit it to handle whatever automation you would like. NotifyMail will send events to this applet when new mail has arrived and when your email application has been brought to the front. This applet is launched when NotifyMail is launched. If you make changes to the applet, you will need to relaunch NotifyMail.