

All dates and times are displayed in the way it was chosen through the system control panel "Date and Time". Whenever you make changes in this control panel while SelfControl is running, the changes are usually not in effect before windows that bear dates or times are closed and reopened again.