For Kaleidoscope

Scrollites features multicolored "glassies" that light up when clicked on. This kind of silliness has been long awaited by legions of Mac owners lost in the dull dry desert of grey scroll arrows. So I heard anyway.

In case you found this file on your doorstep and haven't a clue as to what to do with it, go download Kaleidoscope and drop the Scrollites document in the Color Schemes folder. If you find yourself smiling at Scrollites and you like it and you wanna take it home and keep it, go ahead and send in the registration fee and all past and future versions of Scrollites for Kaleidoscope will be yours for the downloading. With a clear conscience, that is. :)
