High Quality Algorithms -

Our audio processing algorithms belong to the top league of high quality software algorithms. They are fast, flexible and novel in that they allow both standard DSP tasks in highest quality as well as new and previously unthinkable sound manipulations through the use of Neural Network processing. Various reviews certify our products as being of utmost quality. And the world's leading companies in sequencing and audio editing have licensed our algorithms for inclusion in their products. Many major artists are using our software in their music and have found our software to be both exciting and creative.
