

ShowShare is an application designed to supplement System 7's file sharing with additional functionality. It's most original feature is the display of an indicator icon in the menu bar which shows the current state of file sharing. As the state of file sharing changes, so will the indicator. The icons which you will see are as follows:

his icon indicates file sharing is running without error.

his icon indicates file sharing is not running.

his icon indicates file sharing is starting up.

his icon indicates file sharing is shutting down.

his icon indicates file sharing tried to start up but was unable to do so due to an error.

All icons will be displayed in color or monochrome, depending upon the bit depth of the monitor on which the menu bar resides. All icons inside ShowShare are named resources. If you feel proficient with ResEdit or another resource editor you may edit these icons. (You'll also find a few more icons I haven't implemented yet.)

Note: ShowShare is designed to work with file sharing. It can work with AppleShare 3.0 but, at this early stage of the game, I'm not putting a great deal of effort into making ShowShare especially AppleShare-savvy. If you want me to do so, let me know.
