Was told "Sorry Were Out"
Then there were six.

Six good customers
Complaining of dirty plastic knives.
No one responded
Then there five.

Five good customers
That had been there before.
No one called them by name
Then there were four.

Four good customers
We were all out of ice tea.
Since our clerk didn't care
Then there were three.

Three good customers
One of them was new.
Our clerk was indifferent
Then there were two.

Two good customers
One had a small son.
No one offered a "Cubby Hole"
Then there was one.

One good customer
When he was done
We forgot to thank him
Then there were none.

No more customers.
"What is there to do?"
Give our great service,
But - - Give it to who?
