

This button gathers information in the export field and opens a text-writable program (like a word processor) where you'd paste information (cmd-V).

The destination program is remembered by Address Ace™. To change settings use the tools button.