This is the primary address button.
When "checked"   it tells Address Ace™ to use the ajacent fields when printing or placing data into the export field.
To enter or use a secondary address, click the button located behind the floating navagation palette.