

Linear.

Linear. These functions are simple functions of x involving no powers. The plot resulting will always be a straight line.

Straight Line is a simple plot of $f(x) = x$.

General ($y = mx + c$) allows any straight line graph to be plotted by substitution of the values for m and c using the Secondary Variables dialog.