

Germanrune is a font which I created in Fontographer. It is a very specialized font which depicts ancient Germanic Runes of which many have been studying and wearing of late. The runes correspond with their English keyboard equivalents and are all in the Caps mode. I have also included most of the sundry symbols which sometimes are necessary with any font. I do recommend you use Pop Char or Key Caps etc. to begin as some of the characters are in the "Command" keyboard.

For those of you who are interested, I developed Germanrune out of necessity to use in various diagrams which I was creating to depict certain metaphysical events so the letters rather than being in the usual "stick" form are drawn to depict their individual energy flows which they are capable of generating.

If you like and use Germanrune, then please send 10.00 to:

Feel free to E-Mail me at AUM FWD on America Online. I would be pleased to hear any comments, good or bad which you may have upon this font. Also, expect more "metaphysical" fonts in the future.
