

Type of File Radio Buttons

Next to the Notebook Preferences checkboxes are two radio buttons (illustrated below) that allow you to select which type of file to create. The two choices are:

Notebook Application: This option produces a stand-alone version of your text file. This is the option that most users of Notebook Maker will use, so it is the default selection.

Command Set File: This option is only of use to owners of 'Commander', or registered users of Notebook Maker. A Command Set File is a specialised application by Golden Micro Solutions that contains the entire 4th Dimension Language Reference Manual. The files produced by this option can only be used with 'Commander' so if you don't own that program, ignore this radio button.
