

Intel ProShare Premier Edition

Intel ProShare software is the most effective way to work on a document when you and a colleague are in different places. By letting you share an application, Premier Edition enables each of you to view and edit the same original document on your screens -- even if only one of you has the application. Change a presentation together before the big meeting. Fix a budget forecast or amend a proposal. By working together directly on the same document at the same time, you'll make better decisions -- more quickly and more persuasively.

PC-to-PC communication: the ultimate way to work together

- + Gives you the option of simultaneously editing an original file, or marking up a copy of it in an on-screen notebook.
- + Only one person needs the application to share it.
- + Easy to use with any Windows application over modems and LANs.
