

Action-packed techno-thriller puts you right in action in Flash Traffic!

You are a Los Angeles-based FBI special agent tracking a group of international terrorists operating within the Continental U.S. You and your partner uncover a monstrous plot to set off a catastrophic nuclear blast which can only be thwarted through the interrogation of the surviving terrorists. Can you get the terrorists to talk? Will you get the answers you need to avert a disaster of unprecedented proportions? Flash Traffic's dramatic and creatively interwoven storylines provide for branching conversation, increases gameplay and replayability.

Features:

- + Three complete storylines are carefully interwoven to provide branching conversations which increase the breadth of game play and replayability
- + All-video presentation for movie-like experience
- + Digital stereo soundtrack, sound effects and voice bring the cast of characters to life
- + Versatile action/dialog interface

Note: The Flash Traffic introduction will loop continuously. But fear not, there is an escape, just hold down CTRL+ALT and press DELETE once. This will not reboot your system, just exit the demo and return you to C:\.
