StoryBoard Utility version 1.1
Why was this product developed ?
I make my living as a Freelance Computer Animator - Industrial Applications. I became frustrated with the amount of time I was spending on creating presentations for my clients. I took some time away from my freelance business to develop a program; designed to do the following:

1. Search the harddrive for all animations.
2. Transfer specific files to a unique play list.
3. Give each list item an "alias" or "play title".
4. Place my customer's logo with the play controls .
5. Save the play list.

This demo version should give you a good feel for how quickly you can put together a presentation and/or just catalog your animations!   The registered version will allow you to place your own logo with the play controls and reconfigure the position of the play buttons.

Please spend a little time with this demo and then read the description of the upgrade Version 2.0, which has some very nice enhancements. It's even at a special price until June 30th.

I hope you find this application helpful !
