Maelstrom High Score Contest

Maelstrom author Andrew Welch and Inside Mac Games are pleased to announce the first ever Maelstrom High Score Contest, in celebration of the recent incorporation of Andrew's new company, Ambrosia Software, Inc.

How to Enter. First, you'll need Maelstrom version 1.3, a special edition of Maelstrom designed by Andrew for this contest. It will be available in early September on services like America Online, CompuServe, GEnie and, for those on the Internet, at sumex-aim.stanford.edu.

Maelstrom 1.3 is designed to verify high scores as they're generated (hey, no cheating). You'll be given a code for your high score. All you need to do is send in your code (as many as you'd like) along with your full name and address. Mail your codes along with your name and address to Andrew Welch at any of the following addresses. Remember, you must be a registered user to enter the contest.
