

The window dimensions (number of pixels in width and height) at which a movie is stored.

You can change a movie's display size by dragging the resize box or choosing a new size in the menu, but the movie's normal size does not change.

If you copy a frame while a movie is displayed at enlarged or reduced size, the frame is at its normal size when you paste it.