

To select the last frame with the slider:

- Be sure to drag the slider all the way to the end of the play bar.

Since the slider's position represents a point in time rather than an exact frame boundary, there may be time remaining in the movie when the slider reaches the last frame. Dragging to the end assures that the full duration of the frame is included.