

Bell Choir
by Kathleen Brade

Applications: Conductor and chorus

This software runs on System 7 Macs with the Sound Chip.

Load in music on the "conductor" application.

When you click the "play" button, the conductor looks over the local zone for other Macs with "chorus" running. (Future versions would/should launch the application (chorus).) It then distributes the parts among the machines that it finds--each machine playing just its assigned notes.

Setup: Make sure that program linking is on and that the account you login (guest or an actual account) is permitted for program linking.

Special Thanks to John Ardussi, Jim Reekes, and Mark Smith.
