

Glossary

I

Icarus, see daedalus

idea, image

Ides of March, according to the old Roman calendar, 15 March idle, empty, trifling, worthless, useless, foolish, out of one's mind ignis fatuus, will-o'-the-wisp

Ilion, Ilium, citadel of Troy image, likeness, copy, representation, sign, embodiment, idea imbecility, weakness imbrue, pierce, shed blood of immanity, cruelty

imminence, impending evil immodest, arrogant, immoderate immoment, insignificant imp, young shoot, child; to engraft feathers into a bird's wing impart, afford, make known impartment, communication impeach, accusation, reproach; to accuse, challenge, discredit impeachment, accusation, detriment, hindrance impertinency, irrelevancy, ramblings impertinent, irrelevant imply, involve

import, involve, imply, express, be important, concern, portend importance, matter, meaning, importunity importancy, significance important, importunate, urgent importless, meaningless, trivial imposition, imputation, accusation, command impostume, abscess impress, impression, to stamp imputation, reputation incapable, unable to receive or realize inclining, compliant; party, inclination incomprehensible, boundless incontinently, immediately incorpsed, made one body incorrect, unchastened, rebellious incredulous, incredible index, table of contents, preface indifferency, impartiality, moderate size indifferent, impartial, ordinary; tolerably, fairly indigest, unformed, unformed mass indign, unworthy indirection, roundabout method, dishonest practice indirectly, wrongfully, evasively, by suggestion, inattentively indiscreet, lacking judgement indiscretion, want of judgement indisposition, disinclination indistinguishable, mongrel indrenched, waterlogged infect, affect with some feeling influence, supposed flowing from the heavens of an ethereal fluid acting on human character and destiny, inspiration inform, take shape, inspire, instruct infuse, shed, imbue ingenious, talented, intelligent, discerning, skilfully contrived ingling, engaging in sexual play inhabitable, uninhabitable inherit, possess inhibit, prohibit inhibition, prohibition injurious, insulting, malicious inkle, linen tape, thread, or yarn inland, of the central, more cultured, part of a country innocent, idiot, half-wit inoculate, engraft by budding insensible, imperceptible to senses insinuate, ingratiate, suggest insinuation, ingratiating, hint instance, cause, detail, proof, mark, presence intellect, meaning, content intelligence, communication, information, news, obtaining of secret information, spy; to pass information intelligencer, agent intelligencing, informative intelligent, giving information, open, informative intemperature, wildness, intemperance intenable, unretentive intendment, purpose, intention intercept, interrupt interest, right, title, share interested, invested right or share interlude, entertainment, play intrenchant, invulnerable intrinsic, intrinsicate, closely entwined investments, vestments, clothes irreconciled, unexpiated irregular, irregulous, lawless iterance, repetition iwis, indeed, certainly