Paragraphs and line breaks

Paragraph tags are used to obviously make paragraphs in your page. The tag for paragraphs is:

<P>

The paragraph tag can also be used to open up some space in your page. Experiment with them. The paragraph tag does not occur as a pair.

****

Your browser will try to fill up every available line with text if you let it. Say you wanted to give your address on your page. You type:

Joe Smith
Any Street
Any Town, State 00000

This is how you expect it to be shown but your browser will put it all on one line if it can, like this:

Joe Smith Any Street Any Town, State 00000

To tell your browser to format the text as you wish you have to put in line breaks. The tag for line breaks is:

A tag would have to be placed after every line of the above address in order for it to appear as you wish. The line break tag does not occur as a pair.

Summary
