Action English (c) 1996 David W. King All Rights Reserved

Read install.exe for instructions on installation. If you have unzipped this file, you probably will find those directions unnecessary.

This is the shareware verison of the program Action English whicht contains a Windows interface for the practice of basic English skills. The program asks the user to enter name and other data (this is education driven so a class number is asked for) and then presents him or her with a list of menu choices from which one can be chosen for practice.

The program contains some 1800 sentences organized in various groups for random presentation. Name, scores, etc, are recorded in a simple text file which can be read by a Windows compatible spreadsheet for analysis.

The registered version does not have the beginning nag screens. If you work in a school and are really hard pressed for funds, let me know and I will work out a sizeable discount.

At one school, copies are being distributed to students as a way for those who have Windows capable computers to practice English at home. I thought this was a good idea. Let me know if you think of any other marketing strategies at dking999@aol.com.

Please read the file vendor.txt before distributing copies of this program.
