NSClean Information

Copyright 1996, Kevin McAleavey

NSClean is designed to look for a NETSCAPE.INI file to gather settings data. For most versions of Netscape, NSClean will automatically find it in a C:\NETSCAPE directory or if you are using Windows95 in the Win32 registry where it is carefully hidden.

There is now a CONFIG program which you should use to setup the locations properly. Please exit this program and use the configurator instead.

Please visit http://www.webtronix.co.uk for further information.