HTML EDITORS

The chore of writing huge chunks of HTML 'by hand' using a common or garden text editor now resides with the golden memory of twin tubs, ouside lavatories and a Tory government, thanks to the rise of HTML editors. Sample this months offerings Didapro for Windows 95 and 3.1 (http//www.faico.net/dida/didapro.htm), HTML Editor for the Mac (http//dragon.acadiau.ca/~giles/HTML_Editor/Documentation.html), Page Spinner (http//www.algonet.se/~optima/pagespinner.html) again for the Mac, and finally Web Weaver for Windows 95 and 3.1 (http//www.webweaver.com).
