

Welcome to the Get Online! Section. If you're new to the Internet, take a look at our guide to getting connected which talks about what you need to get started. This text was originally printed in the .net know how section of the magazine. When you're sure that you've got all of the equipment you need, click "Try the Net" to install software which will allow you to try the Internet for free!