

Guide Builder enables people without Java programming experience to construct interactive Java applets that comfortably integrate into Web pages as impressive navigation interfaces or as online documents. Creating the Java Applets is as simple as clicking a few buttons, typing in text and importing graphics. The entire process is Wizard based, and produces eye-catching results with minimal effort.