

Any Web master can enhance their Web site with a variety of elaborate Java Applets without needing to know the Java programming language. Creating your Java Applets is performed through it's graphic user interface where you simply select your chosen effect from the menu, add your own graphics and configure the settings for the desired outcome.