

A real bonanza this month as we bring you not one applet, but a set of applets, all bundled together and given a smart interface and extensive documentation by the author. There are 32 applets here, separated into different categories and they include everything from the visually stunning, but ultimately eye candy, Galaxy, to genuinely useful navigation applets. All the applets are free for usage, but include a pop up click box for the author's site accessed by clicking on the applet. If you need to remove this, you can register from $20 - all the details are in the documentation.
