

This is a system tray-based program that automatically detects and fixes spelling errors while you type. It runs in the background and supports all Windows applications, including e-mail and chat clients; correcting all types of typo errors such as misspelled words and first-letter capitalisation of sentences, etc. The dictionary contains 100,000 entries and an editable mechanism for detecting and correcting errors.