This application features an assortment of small utility components to help with a myriad of monotonous Web design tasks. These include colour tools for finding out the HTML colour values using visual colour palettes, bitmap to Jpeg conversion tool, Web button designer, HTML special character selector, banner maker, and many more. Some of these tools are already included with many decent HTML editors, but some aren't so it's still worth having a look.