

CyberMedia® United Kingdom First Aid® 97

Version 4.03 (UK)

Thank you for purchasing CyberMedia First Aid 97, the latest version of the award-winning First Aid software from CyberMedia.

This document includes updated information for the documentation provided with First Aid 97. The information in this document and in the Help system is more up-to-date than that in the manual.

Web Searcher Issues

If you use CompuServe or America Online as your Internet provider, you must first be logged onto the service prior to running the Web Searcher icon from the Advisor screen.

The Web Searcher requires a network connection that will work with Microsoft Internet Explorer 3.0 for Windows 95. In particular, some older dial-up networking software designed for Windows 3.x may not work with the Web Searcher. If you have problems with your dial-up networking software, or if you have questions, please contact your Internet service provider. Ask them if their dial-up software is compatible with Microsoft Internet Explorer 3.0 for Windows 95.

Update Issues

If you use CompuServe or America Online as your Internet provider, you must first be logged onto the service prior to running the Update function from the main screen.
