

Important note: You must have a free Google license key in order to run the VoltoGSC demo or applications that you create. Register for your key at: <http://api.google.com/createkey>

Evaluation versions of the VoltoGSC component are fully functional but will display a popup license information window briefly when using the component with Visual Basic. When using an unlicensed component, the URL, snippet and summary data will be removed from some of the search results and will be replaced with an informational message.
