

This cleanup kit contains all things necessary to completely remove all traces of a WebObjects for Windows installation from the Windows Registry and environment (i.e. environment variables). The current uninstaller for WebObjects for Windows leaves traces of WebObjects in the Registry and environment. Complete uninstallation (by using first the WebObjects uninstaller and then this cleanup kit) will reduce the nondeterminism inherent in Windows software installation and increase the likelihood of installation success.

To use this kit,

- a) download the kit
- b) unarchive it using WinZip or some other utility that properly parses the ZIP format
- c) read the extracted README.txt file for further instructions.
