OrderMaker:

OrderMaker is an application for safely ordering MicroMat products over the internet and other online systems. All portions of the order are entered in the OrderMaker application and then the data from the order is encrypted into a text file. This text file can then be emailed to MicroMat from any mail program. Only MicroMat Computer Systems has the proper algorithms for decrypting the order. While no encryption method is fool-proof, a potential data thief would have great difficulty breaking an OrderMaker transmission and would likely move off to easier prey. The OrderMaker application can be obtained from
