

Forms Miscellaneous Contracts

These contracts just don't fit into any of the other Forms categories.

On many forms you want the initial focus to be on a specific control. For example on a user login page you probably want the focus to be on the user name edit box so the user can enter his name straight away. The contract "Set focus when page loads" does just that.

The "Disable edit box" contract will add the `DISABLED` attribute to the generated HTML during ASP serve up time. This produces an edit box that will not interact with the user.
