Security Contracts

Version V10_30 Drumbeat 2000

This set of Contracts allows the Web-site designer to set up site level access privileges and to create a new user. These contracts typically have a Recordset as one of its paritcipant and use Session variables.

1. Redirect on access privilege failure

These contracts take a comma separated privilege group list for the page. Access is denied for the current page if the user does not belong in one such group. The user may also be redirected to a different page if necessary.

2. Login contracts

These interactions can be used to create new users with unique id's, allow access to specific pages in the site based on the login details.

Please refer to the description tab of the specific interaction for its usage and behavior.