

ASearch08: AppleSearch and the PowerPC

Written by : Chuq Von Rospach

May, 1994

AppleSearch 1.0 as shipped does not run on the PowerPC. A patch is available that will update AppleSearch to 1.0.1. The only purpose of this patch is to add PowerPC compatibility.

This patch has been made available through AppleLink (where?), on the internet on the ftp.apple.com ftp server, the sumex-aim and University of michigan software servers, and through 800-SOS-APPL.

Please note that users will likely see a performance reduction of up to 30% running AppleSearch servers on a PowerPC. This will be resolved when a native code version of AppleSearch is made available.