

Freeware are programs available for download on the Internet which do not cost anything to use. Many software authors distribute their programs as freeware in the spirit of friendship.