

Email is a method of sending an electronic letter to someone else using the Internet as the delivery system. Email is very fast, usually taking only a couple of minutes to deliver.